IN MEMORIAM

KRAFT—In loving remembrance of our dear devoted son, Frank N. Kraft who departed this life (18) eighteen months ago today, April 23, 1919.

This lovely bud, so young, so fair,
Called home by early doom,
Just came to show how sweet a flower
In Paradise would bloom.
Ere sin could harm, or sorrow fade,
Death with friendly care,
The opening bud to heaven conveyed
And bade it blossom there.
We would rather hear the laugh of you,
Than all the birds that sing,
We would rather see the smile of you,
Than any, anything.
We would rather kiss the lips of you
Than all else we might do.
If we could live just where we like,
We would be right there with you.

Devoted Mother and Father.

TEMPORY LOAN OF $60,000 FOR CITY

City Losing 24 Cents on Every 1000 Feet of Gas Sold

REPORT ON FINANCES

Councilman Wattles Tells Common Council Water Gas System is to be Installed—Better Gas Promised

The finance committee of the city council was authorized to make a temporary loan of $60,000 by a unanimous vote at a called meeting of the common council held last night The matter will Tuesday night be presented to the board of aldermen for action.

Councilman Ticer, chairman of the finance committee of the city council, made a report on the finances of the city in which he explained that this money was needed to meet a deficit in the appropriation for the year of 1920 and 1921. The annual appropriation bill he said was $250,000 and the city started out with a deficit of $10,000 and there was $85,650, whih was not included in the general appropriation bill. The sum of $15,000 he said is needed immediately for the city gas works.

According to Mr. Ticer the finances of the city gas plant are going back. The city he said is losing twenty-four cents on every 1,000 feet of gas it sells. Mr. Ticer explained that the present rate is $1.70 with a discount of twenty cents and favored eliminating the discount until the plant is made self sustaining. The city he said cannot continue to sell gas at less than it costs.

Councilman C. W. Wattles, chairman of the light committee, explained that the gas plant will be in first class shape when the new water gas system installed is put in operation which it is thought will be in the next three months. Mr. Wattles said Mayor Duncan, Councilman Fletcher and him self after examining the Washington gas plant and obtaining the advice of experts arrived at the conclusion that they could make better and cheaper gas with the water gas system.

The only way the city can meet its obligations Councilman Ticer said was to stop spending money until after the present fiscal year.

Councilman Ruben asked if there was anyway to find out the leakage at the city gas plant and Councilman Wattles explained that an account of the leakage is kept. Mr. Ruben also favored ascertaining the number of gas mains that need renewal.

Councilman Downham said the city gas plant is the most valuable asset the city has. He added that you can't run business without capital. The only thing to do he said is to go to the bank and borrow the money and put the gas plant in first class condition and he added that with the proper zeal you can get results. The trouble with the city Mr. Downham said is that it has not met its obligations promptly and he added that until we promptly meet our obligations we cannot expect to get results. If necessary he said borrow $300,000.

Councilmen Burke and Fletcher also spoke on the gas situation and there were twelve members in attendance.

Body of Maj. F. M. Scanland Is Found Murdered

Promises to be One of the Baffling Murder Mysteries the Authorities Have Had to Handle in Recent Years

In Woods North of This City

Skull Crushed by Blunt Instrument—Body Covered With Bruises—Hand Indicates He Put up a Stiff Fight For His Life—Home in Youngstown, N. Y. —Served Overseas in World War

The body of Maj. Frank M. Scanland, about forty years old, of Youngstown, N. Y., an overseas veteran of the world war, was found murdered in the woods a mile west of George Mason High School, Arlington County about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The skull was fractured at the base of the brain and there was a fresh blood clot on the left side of the brain an autopsy revealed which was performed this morning at 11 o'clock by Dr. B. H. Swain, coroner, of Ballston, Arlington county. In addition the body was covered with cuts and bruises from head to foot, there being at least forty to fifty bruises about the body. The fracture of the skull was inflicted with some blunt instrument in the opinion of coroner Swain.

It was deamed expedient to hold the inquest to fully determine whether or not he was a victim of murder as reports received by Inspector Grant, of the Washington Police Department were to the effect that Maj. Scanland had one scrapnel wound in his head which he had received overseas.

The authorities of Arlington County the police of Alexandria and a corps of detectives of Washington today are engaged in running down every available clew that may lead to the apprehension of the Scanland's murderer.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon there were no clews worth while that had developed. The police of Washington however, got in touch with relatives and have traced his movements up to the time he left the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, October 15.

Scanland the authorities believe had been dead at least five to six days when the body was found and Commonwealth's attorney Frank L. Ball said it is possible that he had been dead a week.

Scanland has a wife Mrs. Alice W. Scanland, of Youngstown, N. Y., who has been notified of her husband's death and he also has two sisters, Misses Sarah and Louise Scanland of Louisville, Ky. The deceased evidentially had recently been living in Louisville, Ky., for he registered from that city at the Raleigh Hotel, Washington September 26. He left his baggage at the hotel when he quit that hostelry last Saturday. If murdered the day he left the hotel, which is more than likely, he had been dead a week today.

The only theory that the authorities can advance in connection with the murder is that the job was committed by more than one person and that the motive possibly was robbery, although he had but $1.66 in his pockets when the body was found, there being a one dollar bill and sixty-cents in change.

Scanland had no jewelry in his possession, not even a watch or scarf pin. Motorcycle cards found in his leather pocketbook and bill case led to his identification.

Scanland, however, evidentally had lost little money when he left the hotel from reports received by the Washington detectives. It is, however, pointed out that the robbers would not have known this and may have attacked him believing he had money.

The theory of robbery was the only one advanced by the detectives, although there were some persons who thought that possibly Scanland might have been killed for some other reason, possibly someone who harbored a grude against him fore some reason unknown at this time to the authorities.

The authorities are divided on the question of whether or not Scanland was killed at the point where his body was found or was killed on the road or in Washington and his body hauled to the point where found.

Commonwealth's Attorney Frank L. Ball is of the opinion that Scanland was killed near where the body was found. He reasoned that possibly being a lover of nature he was in the woods on a hike and that some person or persons met him and attacked him.

The spot where the body was found is an extremely lonely one and more or less isolated. It is fully 500 yards east of Mushpot road a graved road built, but little used. To reach the body it was necessary to go through a winding path of heavy underbrush. An automobile hardly could get to the spot where the body was found and make a turn Undertaker Demaine, went within 100 feet of where the body was found, in his hearse. The place where the body was found could best be described as being half a mile northeast of the property of Dr. D. N. Rust.

Discovery of the body was made by Frank Utterback, of Arlington county who was making a short cut through the place where the body was found in order to reach his home.

Mr. Utterback at once notified Constable Archie Richards and the latter notified Commonwealth's Attorney Frank L. Ball. Mr. Ball shortly afterward arrived on the scene and with flashlights he and Mr. Richards made a complete survey of the ground for evidence of a struggle. There was no blood on the ground, and there was absolutely nothing they could find which would give them a clew. The only thing found was an aluminum cup such as is used for a collapsible drinking cup. The body was lying on the back and the crush cap was on the head. The body was besides a shrub oak tree with the head facing the south and the legs were in a semi-rigid position.

In addition to the $1.66 found in his pockets there were two Masonic cards, one being a regular blue lodge card showing him to be a member of Oswego Lodge No. 127, A. F. A. M., of Oswego, New York.

Another card showed that he was a member of an Overseas Buckeye Masonic Club organized March 5, 1919 at Genoa, Italy. It was signed E. Scheuffler, treasurer and C. W. Liebelding, jr., chairman.

In addition there was a small key evidentally the key of a suit case.

Scanland's shirt was covered with blood and his heavy suit of brown hair was matted with blood. He wore a dark green colored suit with a read pin stripe, dark russel low quartered shoes wih brown silk socks. His suit was marked "Lazard's New Orleans and his clothing bore the initials "F. M. S.." He wore a stiff white collar size 15 with white four in hand tie. He also had a pair of novelty cuff buttons, each having two small links.

The link of one of the cuff buttons was broken which would strengthen the theory that he fought before he met his end.

That Scanland put up a plucky fight for his life there is every indication, the knuckles of the left hand being badly skinned and bruised. Coroner Swain is of the opinion that there was a terricic scuffle previous to the fatal blow being struck and this was the blow causing the fracture of the skull.

Since the finding of the body last evening Commonwealth's Attorney Ball has left no stone unturned in working on the case and is working hand to clear up the mysterious murder case. The Alexandria police also are assisting together with some of Washington's best detectives. Chief Goods, and Mayor Duncan were on the scene this morning when the autopsy was performed.

Inspector Grant and Detectives Pat O'Brien, Highlett, Baer and Police Photographer Fred Sandberg were all here this morning accompanied by a number of Washington newspaper men. Commonwealth's Attorney Ball was accompanied by Sheriff Clements and deputy sheriff Howard Smoot, of Arlington county. Early this morning all motored to the place where the body was found and the woods were scoured in search of further evidence without results.

Early this afternoon the detectives again visited the scene and again made an effort to find some clew or to find someone in the neighborhood who could shed some light on the case.

Afterward the officers visited the county jail on Fort Myer Heights and quizzed a colored man held for trial on a vagrancy charge who was arrested about a week ago in the county when he was found one morning about 3 o'clock in the garage of a resident of that county seated in an automobile. He, however, could shed no light on the case and the Washington detectives later returned to Washington and are running down clews in an effort to trace the movements of Scanland since last Saturday when he left the Raleigh Hotel in that city.

At noon today Commonwealth's Attorney Frank L. Ball received a telegram from the secretary of the Masonic Lodge at Oswego, N. Y., asking that the body be prepared for burial and directing that it be held until further notice. The telegram stated that the secretary at that time had been unable to locate the relatives of the murdered man.

This afternoon Commonwealth's Attorney Ball stated that he had not determined just when he will hold the inquest. It is probable, however, that he will impanel a jury some time tomorrow to view the body and then adjourn over until a further date in order to see if any evidence has been obtained.

The case is one of the most baffling that has confronted the authorities for many years. Up to this writing they have not a single tangible clew on which to work and the only theory that can be advanced is that Scanland was a victim of murder that the motive was robbery. Other angles to the cause, however, are not being overlooked by those engaged in the task of unraveling the murder.

SPEAKING MONDAY NIGHT

C. C. Carlin To Address Cameron Club At Young People's Building.

The address that the Hon. Charles C. Carlin will give at the Young People's Building on Monday night, October 25, before the Cameron Club will deal with the conditions past, present and future of the State of Virginia.

The plans and policies of her great men have moulded a great commonwealth and it will be the unfolding of these policies with their far reaching consequences that will be emphasized by Mr. Carlin.

In the forming of our republic the laws of the nation were largely framed by Virginia men, and their impress on the nation has immortalized the state. Now in this new era the women of Virginia will hold a conspicuous place among the law makers of the state and nation, and in the presentation of some of the contemplated laws Mr. Carlin will give a brief review.

The value of such an address by one so well versed on the subject is evidenced by the interest shown in obtaining an invitation to hear Mr. Carlin on Monday night.

DIED.

COLE—Saturday, October 23, 1920 at 11:20 a. m., at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Pulman, 728 South Washington street, Mrs. JANE E. COLE, in her 80th year, widow of the late John H. Cole. MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the League of Women Voters scheduled to be held on Monday evening next at 609 Cameron street, the home of the chairman, Miss Rose M. MacDonald, has been indefinitely postponed, owing to the address to be given that evening by the Hon. C. C. Carlin, under the auspices of the Cameron Club, in the Young People's Building.

The Northwestern Miller states that the demand for flour is still very weak, with only incidental buying. Prices have fallen steadily with wheat and patents are nearly $5 per barrel below the high point last spring. Mills generally are running at about 60 per cent capacity. This is due largely to the decision of the Shipping Board in fixing ocean freight rates for wheat relatively far below flour rates.

AUTOMATIC BELL RINGERS FOR FIRE

Expected Council Will Appropriate $1600 for Purchase of Device

PATENT OF J. R. TOMLIN

Will Do Away With Old Hand Ringing Devices—Will Add to Efficiency of Fire Department

It is understood that the city council at its semi-monthly meeting next Tuesday night will be presented with a report from the joint committees on finance and fire relative to the resolution appropriating the sum of $1600 for the purchase of automatic bell ringing devices, which have already been installed for the purpose of demonstrations and tests in the towers of the three fire stations and that of the City Hall.

This device was invented and designed by J. Robert Tomlin, a local patent attorney, at the request of the chief of the fire department. Chief Ogden has experienced considerable difficulty under the old hand-ringing system in quickly getting a sufficient force of firemen to respond to night calls, and this is especially so during the winter season, when the alarms are most frequent and the most serious conflagrations occur. This condition was occasioned by the desultory system heretofore used, which depended on any one that happened to be passing the engine house at the time of the alarm to ring the bell. Whenever it was possible the policemen would ring the city hall bell, but frequently alarms were turned in when the police at the station could not leave their post of duty When, however, it was practical for them to respond the nearest bell was a block

PHONOGRAPH DEMONSTRATION

Beginning next Tuesday morning the biggest demonstration of phonographs ever held in Alexandria will begin at the Michelbach's store, 814-16 King street and will continue for about three weeks.

Special terms and gifts of records will accompany the sale of each machine and residents of the city are urged to watch the large advertisements that are slated to appear in the Gazette practically every day following the opening of the sale.

IN MEMORIAM

LAYCOCK—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son Edward Laycock, who departed this life two years ago today, October 23, 1918,

Death has robbed me of my son.
Of the one I loved so well;
Taken him from this world of sorrow
Safely home with Him to dwell,
When I saw my dear son.
Whom I tended with such care,
Slowly fading from my presence.
How my aching heart despaired.
When the evening shades are gathering,
And I sit all alone.
In my heart there comes a longing,
If he could only come home.
Our home so sad and lonely,
Life shall never be the same;
My heart will go on aching
Until in heaven we meet again.

By His Parents and Sisters.

ROOSEVELT AND ARTICLE X

If there are any Progressives who have been deceived by the campaign of misrepresentation waged by the Senate oligarchy against Article X of the League covenant we invite them to read the article and compare its provisions with those which Theodore Roosevelt outlined as essential to the establishment of a League of Nations.

Article X says:

The members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial intergrity and existing political independence of all members of the League.

In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat of danger of such agression, the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.

And Roosevelt said, in his Christiana speech:

All the civilized Powers which are able and willing to furnish and to use force when force is required to back righteousness—and only the civilized Powers who possess virile manliness of character and the willingness to accept risk and labor, when necessary to the performance of duty, are entitled to be considered in the matter—should join to create an international tribunal and to provide rules in accordance with which that tribunal should act.

These rules would have to accept the status quo at some given period for the endeavor to redress all historical wrongs would throw us back into chaos. They would lay down the rule that the territorial integrity of each nation was inviolate.

Then, and most important, the nations should severally guarantee to use their entire military forces, if necessary, againts any nation which defied the degree of the tribunal or which violated any of the rights which in the rules it was expressly stipulated should be reserved to the several nations the right to their territorial integrity and the like.

We take it that Theodore Roosevelt might almost be credited with having drawn Article X himself. If he had, we can understand why the Old Guard should oppose it; but why should any Progressive who trusted his leadership permit himself to be deceived by the Old Guard in this matter?

away and could only be reached after climbing a numer of flights of almost inaccessible stairways. This caused appreciable delay which seriously handicapped the department. On several occasions during the early stages of disastrous night fires, it was necessary to order some of the few in service to return to the engine houses and sound the alarms in order that sufficient firemen would respond to enable the department to effectively function. Although the fire officials have for some time realized the necessity of an automatic alarm they have hesitated to ask for the purchase of existing commercial devices owing to their cost, and in an effort to procure a cheaper device they approached Mr. Tomlin, who succeeded in designing a system which cost the city only 40 per cent of the price quoted for other systems.

Under the new system the instant a general alarm is received all the bells ring simultaneously, and if a local alarm is given then only the selected company's bell will ring, thus calling that particular company to service.

The device comprises an automatic electric switch, which by a slight movement in one direction, will silence all the interior phone gongs of the engine houses, so that the phone message may be audible to the receiving man. After the delivery of the message the switch is further moved in the same direction to complete the circuit to the automatic clapper in the belfry, thereby starting the ringing of the large tower alarm bell before, the apparatus leaves the engine houses. This is highly advantageous in that it gives the firemen ample time to get to the scene of the fire for effective service. After ringing for one half minute the switch arm automatically drops from the starting circuit and establishes a rest circuit, and at the end of one minute the current is automatically cut off. Now the machine is reset and ready for instant resinging in event a second alarm should come in.

The large tower bells, which weight from 1000 to 1800 pounds, are struck by a composite clapper of special design. This clapper is driven by a unique device, in which the clapper is actuated in opposed directions by a single retractile spring, thus enabling the same spring to draw the hammer towards the bells and pull it away from it without the employment of a separate rebound device.

Power is imparted to the clapper by an electric motor through the instrumentality of a reversible gear train which embodies a cushioning device of special design, so that in spite of the rapid strikes and heavy blows of the hammer, no heavy shocks are imparted to the machine proper, thus insuring a long life for the device.

The electric current is fed to the motor by a positive distributor, which requires no latches, trips or other unreliable instruments, and obviates the possibility of the device ringing longer than the predetermined interval of time.

It is believed that this system will add materially to the efficiency of the department, and overcome a handicap that, during the last several years, had become a serious matter.

APPROVES PROTEST

(Communicated.)

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Dear Sir: I read with great interest the protest of the Alexandria High School teachers against the action of the School Board, converting the auditorium of the High School into a classroom for the Commercial course. Alexandria is to be congratulated on possessing a corps of teachers so deeply interested in the welfare of their pupils. It is difficult to understand what the Board expects to gain by such an action. Boys and girls are prepared for good citizenship, not alone through the study of books, but, also through active participation and experience in student activities, dramatic productions, literary societies, lectures, games, class and association meetings are important factors in training young people for life in the community.

Alexandria High School has not many of the advantages that the schools of a town of this side should offer. If the use of the auditorium is taken away, what is left to help the teachers make school life interesting to the pupil?

I should like to suggest that all the citizens of Alexandria take up this matter. There is urgent necessity for more school room. A makeshift like this will only spoil High School activities for a year and be of no permanent benefit. Let's solve the problem another way and give our High School students every advantage possible.

A CITIZEN.

Landis Gets Note Threatening Life.

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—A few minutes prior to his address here yesterday before the Indiana Sate Convention of School Teachers, Federal Judge K. M. Landis received an anonymous note threatening him if he continued his attacks on the radical movement in America. The judge referred to the note at the beginning of his address, and declared it was the attitude of the radicals during the war that was responsible for the fact that the bodies of thousands of American soldiers lay in France.

SPORTS

The Virginia A. C., will journey to Washington tomorrow to play the well known and widely advertized Knickerbocker A. C., on their field in Georgetown. The Fort Myer eleven, which boasts of the strongest service football team in this section of the country will engage the local Dreadnaughts Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock sharp, on Baggetts Field, upper King Street near Union Station, in what is expected to be about the hardest game on the Alexandria's team schedule. The owner of the above ground has kindly given permission to the Dreadnaught Athletic Club to stage their football games at this convenient location, thus co-operating to keep up athletics in the city and to provide recreation for the many that follow sports. The grounds are being put in condition for football and will ready for Sunday's game. Everybody is invited to the games, ladies especially. No admission charge being made, silver collection is taken up to tend to defray necessary expenses of visiting teams and equipment of the local club.

SHOESTRING TIES WORN TO SCHOOL AS H. C. L. KICK

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 23.—Students of the Male High School in this city are trying to beat the high cost of living by wearing shoestrings for neckties and ordinary pins for scarf-pins.

Yesterday 100 youths appeared at school with the novel neckwear. Some of the boys went farther in the crusade by wearing paper collars, which they turn when the collar becomes soiled. The entire outfit costs less than ten cents.

FUGITIVE CONVICTS CAUGHT

Men Who Fled Sing Sing Found Eating Apples Under Tree

Warner, N. H., Oct. 23.—George Stivers and Marcus Bassett, who escaped from Sing Sing prison at Ossing, N. Y., last Saturday night, were captured today in the foothills of Kearsarge Mountains. Tired and hungry, they were surprised eating apples under a tree by the roadside by members of a posse and surrendered without resistance. Last night they were on their way back to the prison in custody of Warden Lewis E. Lawes and three keepers.

FIRES SWEEP ADIRONDACKS

Flames, Fanned by High Wind, Are Approaching a Village

Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Forest fires are raging between Northville and Wells in the lower Adirondacks on both sides of the Sacandaga River on a 14-mile front and 4 miles in depth. The flames, fanned by a high wind, were a half mile from the village of Wells, at an early hour this morning.

ROYALISTS MAKING STRONG EFFORTS TO RESTORE KAISER

Berlin, Oct. 23.—Proof that the former Kaiser making a serious attempt to be restored to the throne in Germany is multiplying.

In various parts of the republic the effect of lavish expenditures by members and supporters of the Hohenzollern family is becoming apparent. Leaders in the movement are outwardly showing their true colors.

In Upper Silesia a strong military organization has adopted the imperialistic coat of arms—two crossed swords and a motto meaning "For Kaiser, Freedom and Country." The organization, which was formed several months ago, now has its own information service, postoffice and wireless system.

It has at its disposal more than 12,000 troops and seventy-two guns, under command of Col. Bauser, formerly Ludendorff's chief of staff at the Breig headquarters. Bourgeoisie, upper and middle classes, who have been taxed almost out of existence, are heartily sick of the present system and are supporting a monarchical government move. They accuse Ebert's government of hopeless incapacity and senseless extravagance.

Accused As Head of Whisky Ring.

New York, Oct. 23.—Charged with violating the Volstead act and with conspiracy, Henry T. Semel, of New York, who, prohibition enforcement agents allege, is head of the largest whisky ring in the country, was arrested here yesterday. Alarico Valle and Pan Pollock, charged by the officials with being Semel's assistants, also were arrested. The three were arraigned before a United States commissioner and furnished $3,500 cash bail each.

Arrests of the men resulted, prohibition agents said, after they had purchased seven cases of whisky from Semel and had paid him $700 in marked bills. After the arrests six agents seized 400 cases and eight barrels of whisky, valued at more than $40,000, at Semel's headquarters.

Information in the hands of Frank L. Boyd, chief enforcement agent for New York, indicates, the officials said, that Semel may be connected with the ring recently exposed in Chicago. According to the agents, Semel formed a company shortly after prohibition went into effect and obtained a $100,000 permit, allowing unlimited removal of liquor from bonded warehouses.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—An attempt to establishe the sanity of Carl Wanderer, charged with the murder of his wife and an unidentified tramp, was made by the State in the trial here yesterday.

Dr. Clarence Heymann, superintendent of the Psychopathic Hospital, testified he believed Wanderer sane. Dr. Heymann said he observed Wanderer while the accused was testifying. Wanderer answered questions intelligently, showed emotions and appeared rational, the alienist said.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Alexandria People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Alexandria resident's example:

C. E. Davis, fireman, truck and engine company No. 1, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a good many years and they have always given me wonderful relief. My trouble has been brought on by being out in all kinds of weather and catching colds which settle in my kidneys. Then my back gets sore and weak and I can hardly get around. The kidney secretions will pass irregularly and make me get up often at night. However I find I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills to give me the desired relief. My kidneys have never been in bad condition since I started using Doan's Kidney Pills for those attacks."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davis had. Foster Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo. N. Y.
